OVERVIEW

Eastern Churches Journal, Eastern Christian Publications, and the Orientale Lumen Foundation announce a popular and scholarly conference for lay men, lay women, religious and clergy entitled Orientale Lumen XIV North and East. The theme for this year's conference will be "The Councils of the Church." They will be held:

June 7th - 10th 2010 at Seton Hall University
South Orange, NJ

June 21st - 24th 2010 at the Pope John Paul II
Cultural Center, Washington, DC

Open to the public, but requiring pre-registration, the conference will provide an opportunity for Roman Catholics, Eastern Orthodox, Eastern Catholics and Oriental Orthodox to gather, discuss and learn about their respective traditions. It will include presentations by scholars and theologians, liturgical celebrations of many varieties, and opportunities for everyone to learn from each other and participate in a "dialogue of love and understanding."

Sample videos from past conferences can be viewed at www.oltv.tv.

Each speaker will discuss the conference theme of "The Councils of the Church" from the perspective of his/her own tradition and expertise. They will review the history, context, major results, and other important aspects of Councils of the Church over the centuries. Each plenary will conclude with a limited discussion period among the speakers and questions from the audience. All of the papers presented will be published and provided to all attendees in a Proceedings book after the conference. A special booklet will be prepared for full participation in the liturgical services. Opening and closing remarks will be provided by the moderator, conference hosts and other Church hierarchs. Audio and video recordings of all plenary sessions and liturgical services will be made available after the conference through OLTV.
